Taming the bull

Uncertainty is shaping the timeline for 2020

by Denise DeChaine

Over the past decade, the real estate asset class and investment managers have prospered during the post-global financial crisis asset inflation. This period of time has been the longest economic expansion on record and has produced strong equity markets and capital flows, as well as asset appreciation. Real estate enjoyed popularity among investors due to its relatively higher yields and income-producing character in the recent low interest-rate environment.

The winds have shifted in 2020, however, with economies around the globe suffering from the economic consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic. Uncertainty in the financial markets has put many investment decisions on hold and property types have been affected to varying degrees. The storyline for 2020 is still being shaped, but it is clear: The long bull market of the past decade is now history.

But, looking back to 2019, the aggregate AUM of the top 100 real estate largest investment managers increased by 9.1 percent, totaling more than $3.83 trillion, according to Global Investment Managers 2020, the annual survey and report produced by Property Funds Research and Institutional Real Estate, Inc. For some perspective, at year-end 2008, the aggregate AUM of the top 100 investment managers totaled $1.2 trillion.

A total of 208 real estate investment managers across the globe responded to the survey, representing an aggregate AUM of nearly $4.12 trillion.

The top 10 largest investment managers accounted for $1.35 trillion of AUM, which represents 32.6 percent of the total. The 2020 report, based on 2019 AUM figures, showed eight investment managers with assets of more than $100 billion, up from only three in 2017.

The eye opener is the fact that there are two investment managers with assets of more than $200 billion. Holding on to the number one spot from last year's rankings, Blackstone topped the list with nearly $279 billion of AUM, followed by Brookfield Asset Management with $208 billion.

Rounding out the top 10 were Nuveen Real Estate, Hines, AXA Investment Managers – Real Assets, CBRE Global Investors, Swiss Life Assets Management, UBS Global Asset Management, MetLife Investment Management and Principal Real Estate Investors. (The complete list of investment managers, which includes total AUM and AUM by geographic region, starts on page 4.)

Indicative of the top-heavy nature of the industry, the top 20 firms in the survey represent total AUM of approximately $2.1 trillion, approximately the same as the aggregate AUM of the other 189 firms in the field ($2.01 trillion). Even more remarkable, the top 20 firms in this year's survey

Assets under management by geographic distribution manage nearly as much AUM today as the top 100 firms did in 2013.

Looking at total market AUM on a geographic basis, North America-based assets account for approximately 50.1 percent, while Europe represents 33.1 percent. Asia claims 7.7 percent of the assets and Australasia accounts for 4.2 percent, while Latin America tallies roughly 1 percent.

Brookfield Asset Management ranks as the largest investment manager based on AUM just in North America. The firm manages $149.3 billion in the region. In Europe, the top-ranking manager is Swiss Life Asset Managers, with AUM of $100.8 billion, and in Asia, GLP claims the most assets with AUM of $59.7 billion. In the Australasia region, Charter Hall ranks number one with AUM of $27.4 billion. GLP is also the top-ranking manager in Latin America, with AUM of $3.75 billion. (For rankings of the top 10 largest investment managers in each region, see page 3.)

The report also ranks real estate managers based on their total AUM in the categories of discretionary separate accounts under management, advisory separate accounts and assets, and indirect real estate investment vehicles. NYL Investors manages the most capital based solely on discretionary separate accounts, with AUM of $54.9 billion (see page 12). In the category of advisory separate accounts, Nuveen Real Estate tops the list, with AUM of approximately $55.8 billion (see page 16). And based on indirect real estate investment vehicles, Blackstone ranks highest, with an asset base of more than $265.7 billion (see page 20). ❖

About Property Funds Research

Property Funds Research is an independent management-owned business that provides confidential research, strategic consulting and investment advice for investors in European real estate. PFR's foundations are an expert team, a suite of products for underwriting investments in the European market, and access to a unique dataset describing the major investors, vehicles, and managers in the European and global institutional property markets. Founded in 2001, under its previous name, Oxford Property Consultants (OPC), the firm established the first European and global dataset of unlisted property vehicles, the major sources of capital and investment managers. OPC was sold to CBRE in 2006, and the research and information business (renamed Property Funds Research) was re-acquired by its management. PFR is now chaired by Andrew Baum, who is also visiting professor of management practice at the Säid Business School, Oxford, and managed by Jane Fear.

PFR's global database includes nearly 3,000 unlisted funds, 1,500 fund managers and 3,000 investors. With this resource, PFR provides high-quality confidential research and strategic consulting for institutional real estate investment managers, investors and industry bodies around the world.
