

Strategic Wireless Continues its Cell Tower Acquisition and Development Programs in Multiple Regions of the U.S.

Greenwich, CT – Strategic Wireless Infrastructure Funds Management (“Strategic Wireless”), announced today that through its affiliate, SWI Funds Tower Holdings, LLC, it has completed the acquisition of multiple cell towers in various regions throughout the U.S.

The towers and other related assets are geographically diverse and located in Texas, Michigan, South Carolina and Florida, all of which are strategically situated on, or close to, major thoroughfares. The assets located in Texas, Michigan and South Carolina are all part of Strategic Wireless’ acquisition program and those in Florida are part of the company’s tower development program that supports top-tier wireless broadband carrier network densification.

Jerry Sullivan, CEO of Strategic Wireless stated, “We believe the continued acquisition of existing cell towers, as well as our ability to create affective partnerships with carriers, contractors and developers through new tower development, is accelerating our ability to create a robust portfolio of essential telecommunications assets.” Tenants on the towers consist of a variety of top-tier wireless carriers as well as various broadcasters and public service networks.
